Charges Hanoi with Broadening War

Nixon Pessimistic in Message

WASHINGTON (AP) President Nixon today charged Hanoi with broadening the Vietnam war into an Indochina conflict and predicted the United States and its allies will have more hard choices in combatting possible new enemy thrusts in South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos.

In a globe-ranging report officially directed to Congress but aimed at the nation and the rest of the world, Nixon keyed his message to a quest for "a full generation of peace" this century. But, he said, "If winding down the war is my greatest satisfaction in foreign policy, the failure to end it is my deepest disappointment."

He pledged to continue the winding down, the U.S. troop withdrawal from South Vietnam. But in stark contrast to his declared global peace goal his projection for Indochina emphasized the broadened war and increased American aid and air support for allied ground forces.

The 65,000 word report, covering 180 pages and accompanied by a nationwide radio speech, was the second Nixon report on the role of the United States in world affairs since he took office.

Patterned after the constitutionally mandated State of the Union message, this White House overview of the world situation disclosed no new U.S. policy departures.

But details were outlined and it gave Nixon an opportunity to tell the story of his foreign and strategic policies at midpassage between the 1968 and 1972 elections.

Nixon sent the report, which has been in preparation for several months, to Congress under the title, "United States Foreign Policy for the 1970s—Building for Peace."

In discussing the Indochina crisis at considerable detail Nixon gave a deeply pessimistic report about the prospects for a negotiated settlement.

He had "frankly expected" some kind of action from the North Vietnamese-Viet Cong side last year, Nixon stated, when he expanded political principles for a settlement and appointed ambassador David Bruce as peace negotiator.

In this, he indicated, he was completely disappointed. But "We will not give up on negotiations," he said.

"There is the additional fact that as our forces decline, the role we can play on many aspects of a settlement is also bound to decline," he added.

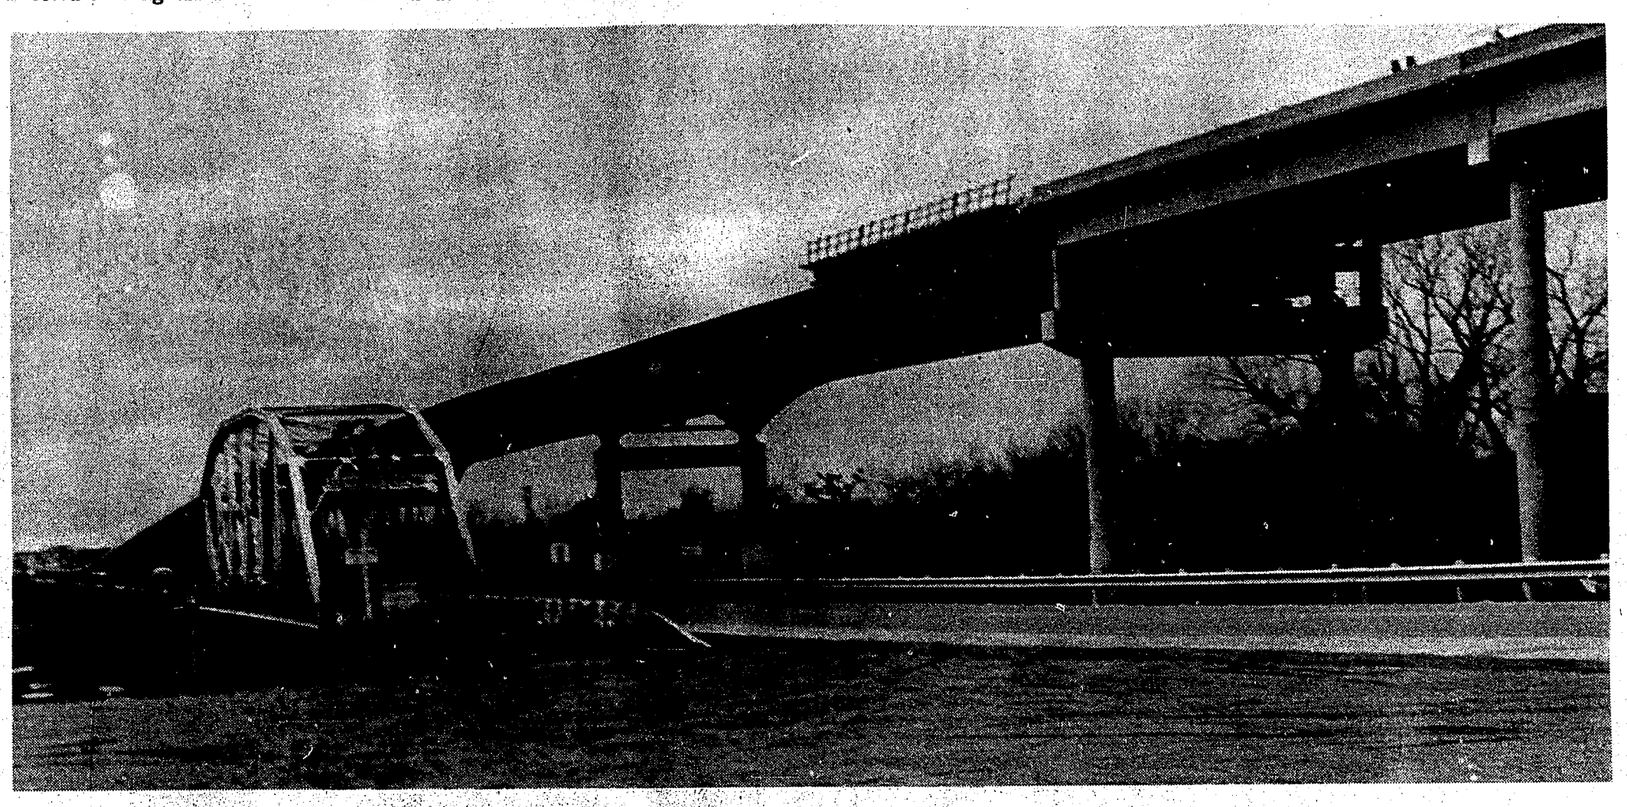

However, in his radio address summarizing elements of the bulky congressional message, Nixon directed another call to Hanoi for serious peace negotiations and renewed proposals he first advanced last Oct. 7, including an immediate standstill cease-fire and an Indochina peace conference.

The chief executive indicated that regardless of what happens in Paris he is certain of the final outcome in Vietnam. "In Southeast Asia today," he said over the radio, "aggression is failing ... South Vietnam now has an excellent opportunity not only to survive but to build a strong, free society."

And while affirming his intention to announce soon a new schedule of American troops withdrawals, the President said some U.S. forces will remain in South Vietnam "as long as North Vietnam continues to hold a single American prisoner."

Nixon appealed for trust in his leadership as he seeks to develop what

Before and After

The massive, soaring new bridge over the Trinity River at Trinidad was going into the home stretch this week as workmen were beginning to position the pre-cast central sections of concrete to span the river. The new bridge—standing high above the Trinity banks to allow future navigation as a part of the huge Trinity Project—makes the old, narrow bridge, left, look like a child's toy by comparison. Half-Way to Goal

Chester Sprinkle, campaign chairman for the 1971 drive for Heart-Lung funds, has announced that county workers have already made plans for collecting contributions in their respective areas.

These workers include Mrs. J. K. Bradley in Rice; Jerry Sam Scott, Frost; Blooming Grove, Drew Gillen; Mrs. Earle Seale and Mrs. H. W. Hoffer, Kerens.

In addition, Sprinkle mentions that the Advance Gifts Drive has met with good response and already exceeds last year's total. To date $1825.00 has been given through this effort, and gifts made through the Medical Auxiliary's coffee total $1730.66. Over-all drive goal is $6750.

Mrs. Herbert Lee Silverberg and her workers are busy completing plans for the Heart-Lung Sunday collection of funds between the hours of 1 and 4 here in Corsicana.

111, Not 11, at Tom's

The Sun regrets a typographical error in yesterday's paper that deprived 100 employes of Tom's Peanuts plant here of recognition for assistance in the United Fund drive. The story should have indicated that Tom's had 111 participants, instead of 11.

Judge to Workshop

County Judge Kenneth Douglas is one of 60 Texas County Judges invited to participate in a Regional, State and Federal government institute on the Role and Responsibility of the County Judge in Promoting and Supporting Local Programs for the Mentally Retarded. He will attend a two-day workshop to be held in Austin, Texas March 11-12, 1971.

Mental retardation is a significant problem since it affects 350,000 Texans. Unless the mentally retarded person can be taught to be self-supporting, the cost to the community can be very great. Texas has, over the years, led the nation in programs aimed at the rehabilitation of the retarded.

Judge Douglas will join with 59 other County Judges and a group of key state and national authorities in this field. Also attending will be Dr. David Wade, Texas Commissioner of Mental Health and Mental Retardation; Dr. Phil Roos, Executive Director, National Association for Retarded Children; and Vernon McGee, formerly of the Governor's staff.

Key-Punch Course

Navarro Junior College will begin a night course in Key-Punch operation on Monday night, March 1. The course will meet for ten weeks from 6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. on consecutive Monday nights. The tuition for the course will be $25 for the complete 30 hours of instruction. The course will be taught in the Computer Center of the Technical Arts Building.

Those interested in the course should pre-register in the office of the Technical Arts Center. Since the course enrollment will be limited, persons interested should call and register immediately. For more information call Lary Reed, Dean of Technical Arts at 874-6501.

Local Grocer Gets AFS Directorship

Local grocerman Hugh Fullerton was elected as one of four new board directors of the Affiliated Food Stores at their 25th annual convention Sunday in Dallas.

Fullerton will represent a membership of 778 grocers who in 1970 had a gross sales of $157,000,000. The association when founded in 1946 had gross sales of $248,000.

Others attending the meeting from Corsicana were Mrs. Hugh Fullerton, Mr. and Mrs. John Seaton, owners of Johnny's Food Store, Mr. and Mrs. John Slate, Slate's Food Store, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Aston, owners of Aston's Dairy Way, and Mr. and Mrs. Burney Bobkoff, owners of Burney's Food store.

Showers Expected

By The Associated Press

Welcome showers or drizzle fell in some parched areas of Texas today and more moisture was on the way.

While rainfall amounts generally were scant, as much as 1.4 inches fell overnight at Eagle Pass on the Mexican border — the first measured there since last November. It continued this morning.

There were light showers or drizzle during the night in parts of Central Texas.

Two Killed

Explosion Rips Through Longview Kodak Plant

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — An explosion felt 35 miles away ripped a division of the Texas Eastman Kodak Co. today, killing two men and injuring six others.

The explosion broke windows in downtown Longview, four miles from the plant.

A small fire that accompanied the explosion was put under control shortly after it broke out.

Killed were Larry Wells of Longview and an unidentified man.

Bert Barnard of Longview was listed in poor condition.

Listed in fair condition were E. B. Stephenson, a maintenance worker; David W. Kinsey and Don A. Brooks, an operator. Expected to be treated and released were Billy Henson of Kilgore, N. O. Fox of Airport Gardens, Forrest Waits of Longview and a man identified only by his last name, Hudson.

Kinsey, who works in the spare parts division at the plant, said that the blast "caved in the wall of the polyethelyne building."

Wells had been employed at the plant since Aug. 1969. He was a native of Stephenville and was a member of the National Guard. He was not married.

The Eastman plant employes 1,750 persons. It was not determined how many were in the plant when the explosion occurred at 7:43 a.m.

The explosion broke windows in downtown Longview, four miles away.

J. S. Witt, general manager of the plant, said that calls for ambulances were cancelled an hour after the explosion.

For a time, ambulances made shuttle runs between the plant and hospital and police cleared the streets to allow the ambulances to travel without interference.

The Texas Department of Public Safety reported at one time that all ambulances and fire units within 25 miles of this East Texas city were called to help.

Manager Witt said that the fire appeared small.

The explosion was felt in Carthage, 35 miles from Longview. Some residents of Marshall, 20 miles away, said the ground shook as in a small earthquake.

Texas Eastman is one of the larger and newer plants in this East Texas industrial city of about 47,000 persons. The Polyethelene division is a major component of the plant.

Zoning Changes Delayed Due to New Ordinance

Pending adoption of the new comprehensive zoning ordinance and zoning district map by the City Commission, the City Planning and Zoning Commission won't schedule any further public hearings for zoning changes, Chairman Campbell Gillespie has announced.

Chairman Gillespie said with the adoption of a new ordinance eminant, persons wanting a zoning change would have to find out at City Hall under what classification such a change would fall under the new ordinance which makes provision for 17 zoning classification districts.

"It would be rather pointless for someone to apply now for a classification under the old ordinance which will be outdated with adoption of the new, until the applicant and the Planning and Zoning Commission knows under what classification the desired change would fall in the new district classifications," Gillespie said.

The original zoning ordinance adopted in 1959 which became effective in January, 1960, provided for only nine zoning district classifications.

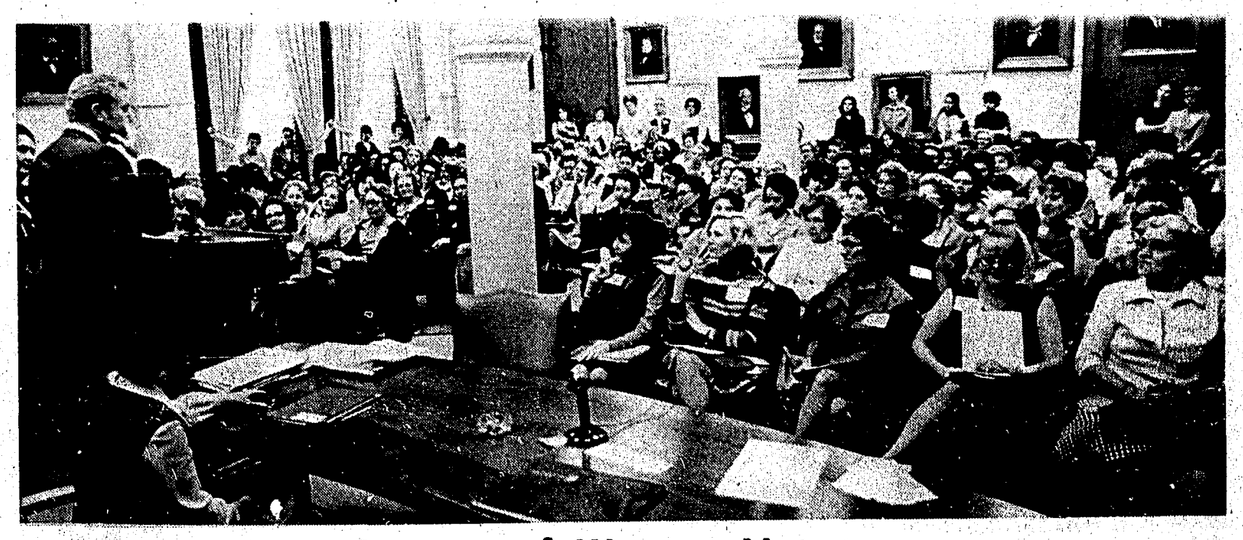

As an example, say John Q. Citizen lives on a corner lot and has a chance to sell his home site for a service station— if he could get it rezoned to authorize making that use of the property. Under the ordinance being superceded by the new ordinance which will be presented to City Commission March 2 for adoption on first reading, the applicant would seek a rezoning of his Residential District property to Local Retail, the highest classification in which service stations were permitted.

Under the new ordinance, upon adoption, the applicant would learn that service stations are permitted in six districts, the highest (or first level) would be "General Retail." They may also be in the next five districts—Central Area, Commercial, Industrial 1, Industrial 2 or Planned Development.

The new ordinance is "cross-coded" to show type of use proposed for property and the various district under which a particular use may, or may not be, permitted. This will simplify an applicant determining what district classification he will need in order to make use as he plans of his property if he can petition and received favorable action on his request for a rezoning from one district to another.

Ordinarily, when applications are up for public hearing before the City Planning and Zoning Commission, public hearings are scheduled for the fourth Thursday afternoon of each month. Once the Zoning and Planning Commission has voted to recommend that the change be approved or rejected by the City Commission the city holds a second public hearing before it considers adoption of an ordinance on two readings granting the requested change.

Chairman Gillespie said since the City Commission must adopt any ordinance on two separate readings, it is unlikely that the new zoning ordinance will have been finally adopted before the end of March precluding the City Planning and Zoning Commission from considering any new applications before sometime in April, or conceivably May.

GARDENER'S GUIDE

By GENE SEARS
County Agricultural Agent

Last week we attempted to answer the question when to fertilize the home lawn. The answer again is around the middle of March. Another question we have been receiving is how much fertilizer and what kind of fertilizer should I use.

We will strive to answer these questions this week. The lawn grass regardless of whether it is St. Augustine or bermuda needs certain kinds and amounts of plant food or fertilizer in order to grow. This is true of plants just as it is true for animals and people that they receive food to live and grow.

The primary plant food which plants in our area need is nitrogen, phosphorus, and potash. In some areas other types of plant food is needed to keep plants growing.

The reason that we find a different need for different areas is due to soil and climatic differences.

The need of nitrogen is greater than other plant food elements but due to the chemical makeup of this element will remain in the soil available to the plant for a relatively short time. It is because of this reason that nitrogen must be added to the lawn throughout the growing season if you expect the grass to continue growing vigorously and stay pretty and green.

Phosphorous and potash can be applied to the lawn early in the year and will last throughout the growing season if a sufficient quantity was put out.

We recommend the following as a guide for home owners in applying plant food to your lawn.

1. —Use only a fertilizer without the addition of insect, disease, or weed killers. These additions are expensive and if you really need one of these pesticides, there is not sufficient quantity to do an effective job of controlling the pest.

2—Apply the first application of fertilizer to the lawn in the middle of March.

3—The first application of fertilizer should be a fertilizer which has all three of these plant food elements—nitrogen, phosphorous, and potash. Buy your fertilizer according to the analysis. The first number on the label indicates pounds of nitrogen per 100 lbs., the second number indicates pounds of phosphorous per 100 lbs. and the third number refers to the pounds of potash per 100 lbs. For example, an analysis of 10-20-10 would mean 10 lbs. nitrogen, 20 lbs. phosphorous, and 10 lbs. of potash.

4.—Apply the plant food with all three — (nitrogen, phosphorous, and potash) so as you are applying a minimum of two lbs. of nitrogen per 1000 square feet.

5.—Reapply a nitrogen only at approximately six week intervals throughout the growing season. The nitrogen only fertilizers which may be used on the lawn are ammonium sulfate, ammonium nitrate, and cerea.

We receive many questions each year about using barnyard fertilizer on the lawn. I normally do not recommend the use of barnyard fertilizer because of what you get that you really do not want. The use of barnyard fertilizer would be good if you could be sure of not bringing in numerous types of weed seed. It is for this reason that I do not recommend barnyard fertilizer being used. The fact that the barnyard fertilizer comes from the inside of the barn does not mean it is free of weed seed. If you do use this type fertilizer, you can get ready to start fighting weeds later.

February is a time to prune. The day may be cold, but the job will warm you.

Before buds begin to swell for spring, accomplish necessary pruning of winter evergreens and summer flowering trees and shrubs. Do not prune spring flowering plants such as Spireae, Azalea, Quince, etc., until after spring bloom. Realize that pruning actually induces growth...the more one prunes, the more the plant grow. Make clean, even cuts, leaving no stubs. Always cut back to a major branch or limb. Treat or seal-off all cuts over two inches in diameter with a horticulture paint. Thin out overgrown shurbs, removing branches at ground level and within the interior of the plant.

1—Prune hybird-tea roses in late February to induce new growth and blooms. Remove top growth to 12 to 15 inches above ground. Retain from 4 to 6 healthy canes. Remove all dead, diseased, and injured twigs and spindly growth frequently found at the base of plants. Postpone pruning climbing roses until after the major flush of spring blooms.

2—Trim and shape espaliers ...pruning now will encourage a compact and abundant spring growth.

3—Hollies produce berries on aged or second-year wood; thus, constant pruning will elminiate possible berry production.

4—Prune when transplanting. Remove the upper third of the plant to adjust for damage to roots and to insure new gorwth and more abundant summer blooms.

6—Make cuttings of pruned materials such as crape myrtle, English ivy, and aucuba japonica. Place 4 to 6-inch cuttings in a well drained rooting media. Keep warm and moist under glass or plastic to form roots.

Voter Registration Deadline Extended

State residents will have another month to qualify for voting in the 12-month period starting March 1.

The Texas Legislature last week passed a bill extending the voter registration period from January 31 to February 28.

County Tax Assessor-Collector Jerry S. Scott says he does not feel the extension will pose any problems in compiling the poll lists for local elections. Such lists, compiled by hand in some counties, are prepared by a Waxahachie computing firm for Navarro County.

"Now the people will have five months to register instead of four," he said. Some 12,000 Navarro County residents have already registered to vote. Last year, 14,047 persons registered, and Scott said the figure should not increase greatly this year.

Scott said his office has received a telegram from Austin stating that instructions for a supplemental voter list will be forth coming. "I would anticipate that a list of those persons who have registered by January 31 will be made up, then additional names, or a supplemental list, will be added at a later date."

Some county tax assessor-collectors have urged voters to hang onto their registration certificates because they doubt they will be able to get the poll lists ready for elections early in April. Scott does not anticipate such a problem in Navarro County.

Aunt Louise

Friday I called L. B. Sparkman to find out if anyone had caught any fish. Remember what a windy day it was....my guess would be at least fifty miles an hour. If you were going against it you felt as if you were climbing a mountain and if you were going in its direction you could not walk, it pushed you into a run.

His reply, "Aunt Louise, are you feeling all right?"

Well....no, in fact Alvin and Ellis had just accused me of not knowing Tuesday from Thursday, smile.

Dale Baker came to my rescue. He said that everyone had an "off" day once in awhile. All I can say if they don't something is 'FISHY'.

Reminded me of the article I once read by the evangelist, Billy Graham. He said so many people made the excuse that the reason they did not go to church was that they could not find one to please them. The congregation was made up of hiprocrites, etc. He said if anyone was lucky enough to find a perfect church it would become imperfect when you or I became a member.

Was that a sneaky way to excuse myself of making a mistake? I did not mean for it to sound like that, honest.

Tome Clemens of the Stylette Beauty Salon is as difficult to make a business appointment with as Basil Coe at Mile's. These two stay busy.

All was not in vain, however, picked up a news item.

A. N. Marion E. Haynes, U.S.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Haynes, 1241 West 4th Avenue, was home for three days last weekend. He is stationed at Memphis, Tennessee attending advanced Electronic School.

Marion is a '67 graduate of C.H.S. he entered the Navy September 8th and received his basic training in Orlando, Florida.

Mrs. John Harris, Richland, writes that she had plenty of company to help her celebrate her birthday. Those present were her daughter, Jo Ella Hoffpanier, neice, Looeria Durr, David and Fay Blood and her son, Col. Wm. Doyle Harris of Commerce who is the Executive Director of the East Texas State University Foundation there. Her other son, Jim, who works at Oil City came out when he got off from work. She said that she wished that I could have been there, that her day would have been complete. I, too, wish that I could have celebrated with you. All that good food, and do I like to eat!

In reply to the lady who signed her letter "a constant reader" and how do I feel about the Women's Lib Movement.

Honey, I do not honestly know. I've read a little about it. Did not absorb too much. I've been working since I was fourteen years old. I can get in there and SCRATCH when I have to. After all, I'm head of a household and have been for 24 years. It has been necessary that I work with men. My work is pleasant and as profitable as I make it. The women executives that I contact are just as efficient as the men.

I believe everyone has to work for their pay and are not going to have it given to them, man or woman.

Wanna know something? I think I would have enjoyed being a plain housewife but that was not God's plan.

"The Wise Memory"
By Frankie Michaels

Friends depart and time goes by
But the memories remain
When a chuckle or a sigh
Brings them back to us again.
How it's done no one has ever learned.
For so fashioned is the mind.
That it saves to be returned.
Many a job we've left behind.
Just the utterance of a word
Or a flower the mother grew
Ad the memory is stirred.
Some last rapture to renew
We might all forgetful grow of the joys that couldn't last,
If the memory didn't know
What to cherish of the past.

Thanks so much for writing. Looking forward to hearing from YOU.

See you Thursday.

Happy Birthday to Tom Eady, Cooper-Eady & Judson Insurance, Suite 7-B, State National Bank Building! I will not ask you how many candles were on your cake ... imagine you are like me ... I know, so what? Just keep fishing, deer hunting and enjoying life ... giving your valuable time to help others and your church ... you will NEVER be old!

Monday afternoon late I decided to try to catch Tome Clemens at the Stylette Beauty Salon. Just as I drove up he was leaving with good citizen Walter Irwin. Chasing men is just one of the fringe benefits of my job. Smile!

To make a long story short, Tome said, "for goodness sake, go in and tell James Hunt to comb your hair."

He didn't need to say more ... I had what my mother, Mamma High, used to call the "Mully Grubbs" ... and when a woman's hair looks like James can make it look, it gives her a lift like buying a new hat or a dress.

James brushed my hair and then asked, "Aunt Louise, have you been fishing or on a picnic?"

"No".

(Silence)

Then I asked, "Why?"

James said, "I just brushed a tree leaf and two small sticks out of your hair."

(Laughter ... all over the salon)

The joke was on him. I, too had brushed leaves and sticks out of my hair. Saturday was such a beautiful day, my son, Mike, and I trimmed tree limbs and hedges, etc., and carried them out into the front yard to be picked up. I was so sore from stooping and bending and unusual exercise that I could hardly get out of bed Sunday. Now did I tell my age?

Received a post card from Weaublea, Missouri.

"Dear Aunt Louise, Hi ... Well, I've been from Corsicana, through Dallas, Oklahoma City, Kansas City, Mo., and Independence, Mo. since Friday at 2:20 a.m. at the bus station. Sure do enjoy your column. I am visiting my mother in Weaubleau on Hwy. 54. The weather is fine though cool. I was born and as my home and am always glad to get back to Blooming Grove. The fish pictured on the postcard are Spoonbill from the Osage River and it will soon be the season for them.

I saw a sign near Clinton, Missouri ... T-Bone 50 cents, Meat $2.50. Love, Ruth Moore."

Thanks for writing. Wish you could stay and catch some Spoonbill.

"Dear Aunt Louise, this letter is to advise you that I used to live in Powell, Texas and Howard Jackson, whose wife is Joyce, is a first cousin of mine. I read in your column where you visited the Powell State Bank and talked with Joyce. I think she is a wonderful person also. Mr. Harrison Bourke was a good friend of my family. I did not know he had passed away until I read it in the Corsicana Daily Sun. I went to CHS when the late Beauford Jester (former governor) was a star on the CHS football team. His brother was my classmate also. Louis Wolens was in my class. The late Roy Harrison was a first cousin of mine, also Robert C. Walker who still lives in Corsicana. When you visit Powell again be sure and tell Pearl Emerson hello for me as she was a classmate of mine. I saw her daughter's picture in the paper February 18.

I do so enjoy your column and would be glad to have you and any of my Navarro County friends visit me in Arkansas, signed ... your friend, Sam L. Smoke, P. O. Box 82, Lincoln, Ark. 72744."

Sam, you made a mistake. I used to live in Arkansas in World War II. My first husband was a flight instructor and was stationed in Pineville first and then Russellville. He was killed in a plane crash.

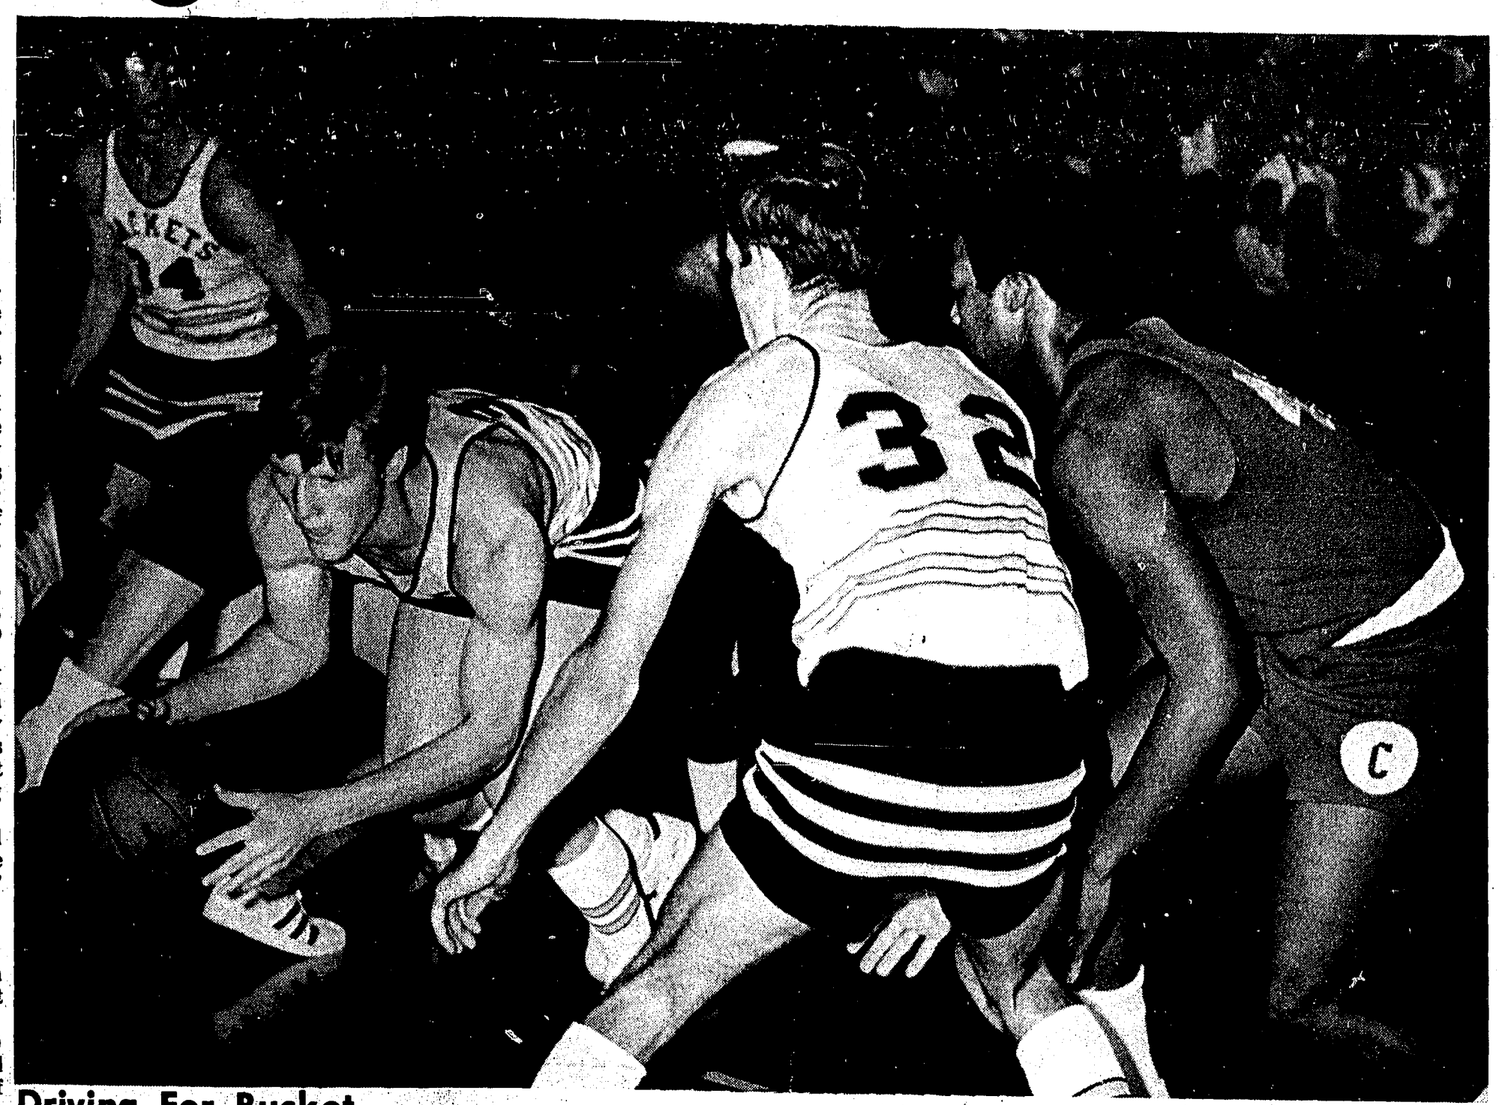

But I found the people so friendly and the country so lovely that I have always had a desire to go back sometime and visit. You're liable to have a visitor on your hands. I enjoyed your letter, do write again, please.

Tigers Back; Co-Champs

CLEBURNE, Tex—Corsicana completed probably the greatest comeback in its athletic history here Tuesday night with a 53-42 win over Cleburne, finishing a hectic 15-AAAA basketball race as co-champion for 1971. Temple's Wildcats posted a 68-60 win over Killeen, and Bryan lost a 66-55 decision to Waco Richfield, throwing the district into a co-championship.

For Jerry Matthews' Tigers it was a sensational finish, winning eight in a row, and ten of the final 11 district games, to finish with an 11-3 league mark, and close the regular season at 30-7.

The fighting Tigers faced certain elimination each game, after falling off the pace with first a 1-2 mark, and then a 3-3 tab in district play, but fought back many times to pull off heart stopping victories to remain in the race.

Included in the second round of district play were wins over three teams tied for the lead, Temple, Richfield and Bryan. One loss would have thrown them out of the fight.

However, Matthews credited his team with a true determined effort, which took much sacrifice, to fight the odds. He said, "As far as I'm concerned this co-championship is like a championship. The Tigers simply were great and I'm very proud of every one of them".

Corsicana and Temple will now meet in a playoff game to see which team represents the district in schoolboy playoff action.

The share of the title didn't come easy here Tuesday as a traditional gutty Yellowjacket team took the floor with one thing in mind, that being to knock the Bengals out of it all. They hung in tough until the final period, when the Tigers spurted to 19-6 scoring margin, outpointing the Jackets 21-10 in the final quarter.

In the end it was some great free throw shooting, plus rugged defense which finally paid off. Corsicana canned 11 of its first 12 free throws in the last period to salt it away.

However, the Tiger trademark of sticky defense, slammed the door in Cleburne's face in the last nine and half minutes, holding the Jackets without a field goal. Lyndon Overton hit a three point play with 1:19 left in the third stanza, and that turned out to be Cleburne's last two-pointer of the night.

Shooting hurt the Bengals in the early going as they managed only nine buckets out of 33 shots in the first half. But, that improved to an 8 for 18 show in the last half. Their final shooting percentage was only thirty-three percent from the field, but did post a nifty 79 percent from the line, hitting 19 of 24.

After Corsicana hurt the Jackets badly in the first meeting here inside Coach Ken Wigington decided to shut off the strength of Kim Wyatt and Henry Bowie, forcing the Tigers to take the long outside attempts. It worked for better than three periods, but when the Tigers finally worked their way to a five point spread, Cleburne had to come out, and the locals then moved to the goal with ease, building a 15 point margin, 51-36 with 2:46 left in the game.

A balanced attack spelled the doom of Cleburne.

Bowie, who picked up nine big final quarter points, finished high with 14, with Wyatt right on his heels, canning 12.

Outside ability came from Marcellous Mitchell, who had a great night all the way around, Steve Smith and Mark Schriefer. Mitchell, who along with Wyatt and Schriefer were perfect from the line, meshed nine points, followed by eight each from Smith and Schriefer.

A thorn in the flesh of Corsicana was senior Freddy Sarchet. The quick guard paced the Jacket attack with 15 points, but was fouled out with 4:27 left to ease the pain somewhat. Overton, who is the all time leading scorer for Cleburne also left on five fouls, with 3:31 to go.

But, then the Tigers broke it open. Bowie layed in a pair, Mitchell hit two free shots, and Wyatt added two more for a 45-34 lead with 4:04 left.

Riches True And False Still Raise Great Issues

Present Age Richest in World History — Problem of Getting and Spending Still Shakes Empires — Earthly Treasure and Heavenly Still Contend for First Place

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

The International Sunday School lesson for February 28 is entitled "Rich Toward God." One of the sub-titles is "How Can I Be Wealthy?" It need hardly be said that this is not a lesson on how to become wealthy from the monetary standpoint but how to become wealthy by the building up in our lives of real spiritual values.

Balance

We have sometimes heard the remark made "I will pull down my barns and build greater." By this we were referring to advancement in earthly wealth. Jesus in his preaching spoke frequently about treasure in heaven. That this type of treasure is different from the treasure deposited in bank accounts or stored in safety deposit boxes needs hardly to be mentioned. Certainly the Bible teaches that there are certain types of wealth outside the realm in which we move. When the books are finally balanced it will undoubtedly be found that some people are rich in heavenly treasure and others poor in heavenly treasure.

Jesus on a certain occasion was preaching about values in general. One of the company that stood about him interrupted the Master with the angry request: "Master, speak to my brother, that he divide the inheritance with me." Jesus was quick to resent such an interruption and replied, "Man, who made me a judge or a divider over you?. And he said unto them, Take heed, and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth."

Then he told of a man whose fertile ground brought forth plentifully. He was naturally pleased with this prosperity and said to himself, "What shall I do, because I have no room where to bestow my fruits? And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my fruits and my goods. And I will say to my soul, Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years; take thine ease, eat, drink, and be merry. But God said unto him, Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee: then whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided? So is he that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God . . .

Moth And Rust

"Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal: but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: for where your treasure is, there will your heart be also."

We know what treasures on earth are whether we possess much or little. But what were these treasures in heaven about which Jesus spoke? Since heaven would appear to be quite different from the planet Earth on which we live, we can presume that the treasures of heaven are different from earthly treasures.

The man who would pull down his barns and build greater was both greedy and foolish. He was greedy because he wanted to accumulate things of value for no other reason then just possessing them. He was foolish because he anticipated a future that would never come to pass. "Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee: then whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided? So is he that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God."

Basic Requirements

Some people hold that material prosperity is wrong. If one has plenty of this world's goods he is assumed to have secured them in a dishonest or heartless fashion. This is not necessarily true. There are good people among the rich, and bad also. There are good people among the poor, and bad also. It is not what we have that makes us good or bad. Honesty is the first requirement in the laying up of this world's goods. But we must have a sense of stewardship, a keen sense of troubles among our fellowmen that could be cured—at least relieved—by a bit of generosity on our part.

The terms "Kingdom of God," or "Kingdom of Heaven," mean the rule of God. Jesus declared that the first duty of a Christian believer is to seek the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and, continued Jesus, "all these things shall be added unto you." Does this mean that if we lead a righteous life we shall be wealthy? Not necessarily wealthy in the earthly sense of that term but certainly wealthy in the heavenly sense. If we put God and his kingdom first in our lives we can be sure that we are laying up treasure for ourselves in heaven. There is such a thing as being rich toward God, and only those who are rich toward God have found the secret of a happy life.

SEVEN SENTENCE SERMONS

To obey God is perfect liberty. He who does this shall be free, safe and happy.

—Seneca

A bad man is at his worst when he believes himself a saint.

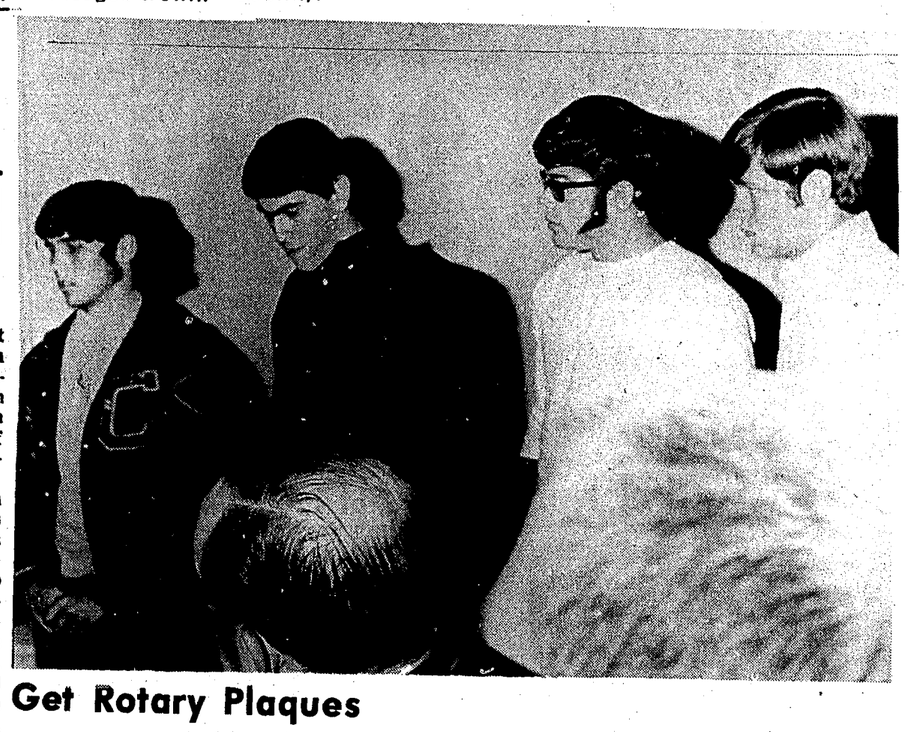

The seeds of knowledge may be planted in solitude but they must be cultivated in public.

Seek ye, first God's kingdom and righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you.

—Matthew 6:33

We know that Love
Is Nature's second sun
Causing a spring of virtues
Where he shines.

Bolivian, Thai Coeds Address Altrusa Club

Two attractive Navarro Junior College coeds, Miss Sylvia Lizarraga of Bolivia, and Miss Meewan Pantasuporn of Thailand, were special guests for the recent luncheon meeting of the Altrusa Club of Navarro County held at Holiday Inn.

Both members of NJC's International Students Club, the young women were accompanied by the club sponsor, Mrs. Wanda Gillen, who is dean of women at the college.

Each spoke briefly about her native country and about her activities at Navarro, and Mrs. Gillen spoke about the entire Navarro enrollemtnt of 69 foreign students from ten different countries.

"Corsicana, Navarro County, and Navarro Junior College are all very fortunate to have so many students from so many different countries in their midst," Mrs. Gillen observed.

"This is a chance for us as Americans to invite these students into our homes and lean about their way of life. This is also our chance to show America to these students—to help them get to know us as we really are."

Mrs. Gillen suggested that students who attend college in the larger cities miss the opportunities that Navarro's foreign students have. She said that they have been invited into many homes and churches in this area and added that the Baptist Student Union at Navarro, under the direction of Ron Wells, has found 'adopted parents' for most of the foreign students.

The dean of women said that the International Students Club was first organized by Cecil Williams, an instructor of business at the college, when he brought several Bolivian students to Navarro after spending a year teaching in Oruro, Bolivia.

Today, Mrs. Gillen said, there are 33 Iranians, 12 from Thailand, 12 from Bolivia, three from Pakistan, two from Venezuela, two from Mexico, one from Surinam, one from Hong Kong, one from Lebanon, and one from Ethiopia among the students registered for the spring semester at Navarro.

Mrs. Beth Bolen, chairman of the program for the luncheon meeting, introduced Mrs. Gillen.

Dear Folks:

Little Bo Peep lost her sheep and it came trailing behind her . . .

Just like our checkbooks when we forget to stub a check, maybe? Somehow they never, never balance, do they?

It's bad enough to SUBTRACT those figures when they do appear. But, oh, what a shock when you hit a blank stub . . .

I am one of the guilty ones as far as this is concerned. Truly, I am.

I was at my dentist's office yesterday and was writing out a check and just happened to say to his assistant: "Please, may I borrow your pen again to fill out the stub. I always forget and somehow it never balances . . ."

She laughed and said, "Let me show you what I do and perhaps it will help you."

Here's her good and great advice:

ALWAYS fill in the stub before you do the check. This way you know you haven't left it blank. In otherwords, don't fill out a check first.

Then she proceeded to teach me something that I had never heard about before.

Did you ever start to write a check and find you were plain out and didn't have another one?

She said that whenever she puts her new book of checks in her purse that she turns the edge up on the right-hand end of the last four checks and creases it. Then she writes "book" on the flaps. This way she knows that it's time to remember to order a new batch of checks.

Now wasn't that sweet of her to teach me this so that I could pass it along to you.

All I got to say today is, "May the Lord bless her for showing me the way."

Sure saves lots of fuss.

LETTER OF LOVE

DEAR HELOISE:

Did you know you are a "very best friend" to me and probably lots of other gals who have to move and leave their friends behind?

But we can always take you with us through the newspaper and you'd be surprised how much a little thing like that means.

So don't ever stop writing your little column because knowing you're there is as helpful as your household hints.

Just wish we could have our tea break together tomorrow and talk things over as you're not a columnist to your readers you're the lady next door.

DEAR HELOISE:

Tall, packaged groceries often can't be stored easily on shelves in regular upright position in your kitchen. Store them on the narrow side (shelves are usually deep enough to accomodate them) with the pouring spout at the top.

Also, if you store soap packages under the sink with the pouring spouts at the front instead of the back of the soap stays in the package when you pick it up instead of pouring out on the shelf.

DEAR HELOISE:

I've found a household hint that is so apparent that I wonder where my "thinking cap" has been all these years.

The living room draperies were taken down to be dry-cleaned. After washing the walls, I wanted to cover our large picture window in order to have privacy.

With large safety pins I pinned two flat, double bed sheets to the regular draw drapery rod attachments in a few places and now have "draw sheets" to open during the day and close at night.

To keep my tennis shoes clean-smelling, I spray my freshly washed ones with some spray disinfectant.

It really does the trick.

Lois Dickson Guild Has Social, Business Meets

Members of the Lois Dickson Guild of Wesley United Methodist Church entertained their families with a special party this month in addition to conducting the regular monthly meeting.

The family social was held in the fellowship hall of the church, and games of dominoes and forty-two attracted 12 members and their families.

Mrs. Doyle Moore was chairman of arrangements for the family fete. She was assisted with hostess duties by Mmes. Clarence Young, Hugh Fullerton and Neal Crawford.

The serving table was laid in white linen and centered with an arrangement of seasonal flowers in blue and white. Refreshments included coffee, hot chocolate, dips, chips and cookies.

The group's regular business session was held in the home of Mrs. Neal Crawford, with Mrs. C.J. Warrington presiding.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Calvin Myers, and a treasurer's report was presented by Mrs. Robert Joyner. Plans for the family social were made during the meeting.

As a special project, members discussed plans to purchase curtains for the church's fellowship hall. The study program for the month was presented by Mrs. Calvin Myers.

During the social interlude, the hostess served punch and coffee.

Kinsloe Sets Games-Luncheon

Kinsloe House members and their guests will have an opportunity to relax next Wednesday after a busy week of shopping and wardrobe planning occasioned by today's clubhouse attraction, the annual Spring Style Show of the J. M. Dyer Company.

Mrs. Robert M. Lavender, chairman, and other members of the building committee are making plans for a leisurely day of games for members and guests with a special luncheon scheduled for 12:30 p.m.

Games will begin at 10 a.m. and continue after the luncheon, during which a mystery gift will be awarded to a lucky luncheon guest.

Members are requested to organize their table and bring score pads and playing equipment for the games of their choice. Mrs. Lavender suggests that those planning to participate make arrangements early and advises that those who are still busy with shopping and are unable to participate in the games session make reservations for the luncheon only, as a special menu is planned by Mrs. Wilburn Derryberry, hostess-cateress.

A spring soiling will be provided by members of the sponsoring group, and coffee will be available for both morning and afternoon games sessions.

Other members of the building committee who will assist with arrangements for the occasion include Mrs. Eliot A. Johnston, Mrs. Joe A. Tate, Mrs. Clifford L. Brown Jr., Mrs. Ed M. Polk, Mrs. Lowell R. Estes, Mrs. Ferma C. Stewart and Mrs. J. C. Roe.

POW's Are Key to Ending Vietnam War

WASHINGTON (AP) — A few hundred men watching their lives evaporate in North Vietnamese prisons are unknowingly the focal point of forces which could end the U.S. presence in Vietnam or continue it indefinitely.

Insiders familiar with personalities and events on both sides of the Bamboo Curtain say President Nixon's Vietnamization program and Hanoi's ultimate designs are on a collision course, ironically hinging on prisoners of war.

It goes like this:

North Vietnam and the Viet Cong have on the table in Paris a proposal to settle the prisoner release issue if Nixon will set a date acceptable to them for total U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam.

Despite the official U.S. position that a deadline would destroy the initiative for a negotiated settlement, the real hangup is a difference of opinion over what would constitute "total" withdrawal.

In lieu of a settlement in Paris, President Nixon has declared his intention to continue with Vietnamization, while making it clear that American troop reductions will continue only up to a point.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has stated: "Until the prisoners are released, there will be no total and complete withdrawal of the American presence in Vietnam."

This leads to a situation in which the United States withdraws its presence to a given point and then tells the Communists there will be no more troop withdrawals until the prisoners are released.

"I think that's what we're coming down to," confirmed Air Force Col. Norris M. Overly, a former POW and now a leading figure in the Pentagon's efforts on behalf of the prisoners.

Another source—one outside the peace movement—who has discussed just such a contingency with Communist leaders in Paris and Hanoi says they will not yield to such an ultimatum.

A stalemate like this, should both sides hold firm, could lead to interminable war and put those Americans in Communist hands beyond hope.

Another aspect of the problem is the shape of political as well as military developments in Vietnam.

The North Vietnamese are hoping next fall's elections in South Vietnam will produce a government they can live with. If the elections go badly for them, the next object in view is the 1972 presidential elections in the United States.

Reliable intelligence sources predict that 1972 will be a year of blood bath in Vietnam, If no settlement is reached by then, with a new Communist assault on the order of the 1968 Tet offensive—only this time without enough American combat troops to repulse it.

Faced with such a situation while committed to a program of withdrawal, Nixon would be left with the choice of standing by and watching it happen or sending American forces back in.

The impact of such a development on the U.S. elections is by no means entirely predictable, but the probable alternatives would be a speedy pullout with any bargain this country could strike or more war.

Finally, if Vietnamization continues to progress without a reversal, U.S. strength in Vietnam would be down to 25,000 to 75,000 men by May 1972.

With such a limited forces, the United States would have little leverage with which to negotiate for release of the POWs, and reliable sources believe Hanoi would hold onto them until a political settlement is eventually reached.

"The prisoners will come out in the next 18 months, or they will not come out at all," a source said.

For almost two years the American government has been waging an intense campaign on behalf of the prisoners. The principal weapon has been a hardline charge that the Communists are mistreating the men they hold.

Its object is to embarrass the Communists in the forum of world opinion and force them into concessions to save face. To some degree it has worked. Since Laird officially launched the program with a blistering statement on May 19, 1969, there have been numerous signs that the Communists are improving the lot of the prisoners.

Mail to and from the prisoners is flowing more freely, though not as freely as the Pentagon would like. There are indications that the prison facilities, the food, recreational and educational opportunities have been upgraded.

But while this kind of U.S. pressure can bring improvements for the POWs, there is some doubt as to whether it could ever free them. Some critics of the tactic argue that Hanoi considers the prisoners a major bargaining asset for what they want, namely South Vietnam. Short of that, they're going to make the best deal they can get.

Furthermore, say the critics, the Communists could not surrender the prisoners in response to U.S. pressure without losing face, and the United States cannot back off now without an equal loss of prestige.

By making such a to-do over the prisoners, the argument goes, the United States admitted its concern and, in the Communist eye, vulnerability. To back down now would only encourage the Communists to hold out for higher returns.

While Washington and Hanoi are facing each other down, prospects for a third approach are being explored on both sides.

Hanoi already has made testing moves toward getting around its impasse with the Nixon administration by opening communications with Congress. The list of U.S. prisoners which Hanoi says is official was released to two senators, rather than to the U.S. diplomats in Paris.

Some people in Congress feel it would be a logical complement to the administration hardline if they could offer a counterpoint in the form of a more conciliatory approach.

Such an outlet would allow both sides to make concessions without publicly backing down.

The chief thrust of the American POW campaign has been that North Vietnam has not abided by the terms of the Geneva Convention on treatment of POWs, to which it acceded in 1957. North Vietnam keeps insisting the convention does not apply.

Regardless of whether or how the Geneva Convention applies, there is valid basis for many of the U.S. complaints about prisoner treatment.

Prisoners have been paraded through the streets of North Vietnamese cities and displayed in a manner which violates the Geneva Convention. Some POWs in the North have been held in solitary confinement. There have been dietary problems. Mail to and from prisoners has been severely restricted.

For a long time Hanoi did nothing, except for propaganda broadcasts and publications, to inform anyone of the men they were holding. There still is no trace of most of the men carried on U.S. rolls as missing.

Summer-ize Winter Day with Fresh Sweet Corn

THERE was a time, some folks will remember, when fresh sweet corn was a summer treat. But now there is fine fresh corn in winter too . . . thanks to Florida.

Now, let's work our way kitchenward to run up a batch of tasty, fresh:

CORN CREOLE

- 3 ears fresh Florida corn
- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- ¾ cup diced green pepper
- ½ cup diced onion
- 1 cup diced tomato
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- ⅛ teaspoon black pepper

Remove husks and silk from corn. Cut kernels from cobs. (Makes about 2 cups.) Set kernels aside.

Melt butter in a medium-size skillet. Add green pepper and onions; sauté 5 minutes, stirring.

Add remaining ingredients including corn; blend thoroughly. Cover and simmer until corn is tender, about 5 minutes. Serve at once.

Serves 6.

MEAL-IN-ONE CORN PIE

- 3 cups fresh Florida corn
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- ½ cup chopped onion
- ⅛ teaspoon minced garlic
- 1 pound ground lean beef
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 2 cups diced tomatoes
- ½ teaspoon sugar
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1¾ teaspoons chili powder
- ¼ teaspoon black pepper
- 6 slices buttered white bread

Remove husks and silk from corn. Cut kernels off cobs. (Makes about 2 cups.) Set kernels aside.

Melt butter in medium-size saucepan. Add onion and garlic; sauté 2 to 3 minutes or until quite soft.

Add meat and cook until browned, stirring frequently. Blend in flour. Add corn, tomatoes and seasoning; stir and cook 5 minutes.

Turn into a butter 10x6x2-inch baking pan. Top with overlapping bread slices. Bake at 350°F. 25 minutes or until bread is golden. Serve hot for a good, thrifty main dish.

Serves 4.

CORN AND CHEESE PUDDING

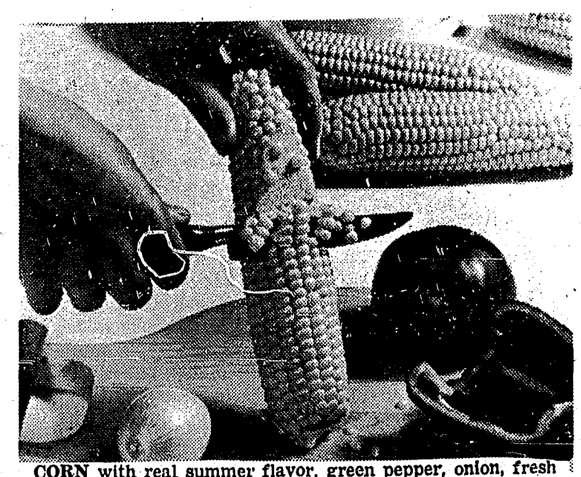

- 3 ears fresh Florida corn
- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- ¼ cup flour
- 1½ cups milk
- 1½ cups shredded Cheddar cheese
- 1 cup soft bread crumbs
- 4 eggs, beaten
- 1¼ teaspoons salt
- 1 teaspoon powdered mustard
- ½ teaspoon sugar
- ½ teaspoon coarsely ground black pepper

Remove husks and silk from corn. Cut kernels from cobs; set kernels aside.

Melt butter in a medium-size saucepan. Stir in flour. Gradually blend in milk. Stir and cook over low heat until thickened. Remove from heat and add remaining ingredients, including corn; mix well.

Turn into buttered 2-quart casserole. Place in pan of hot water. Bake at 325°F. for 1 hour and 15 minutes or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. Serve piping hot.

Serves 6.

CORN with real summer flavor, green pepper, onion, fresh tomato, blend their tastes and textures for Corn Creole.

Variations on a Theme Give Sandwiches a Lift

THERE'S always a new way to prepare that perennial favorite, the hamburger. And when the method includes additional protein, it's an improvement as well as a change. Active youngsters, especially, require a high protein diet, which should include eggs done in a variety of recipes.

"SAUCY" EGG BURGERS

- ¾ pound bulk pork sausage
- 2 tablespoons sausage drippings
- 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
- 6 eggs, slightly beaten
- Scant ½ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 4 sandwich buns

Form sausage in 4 patties; fry until thoroughly cooked in medium hot skillet.

While sausage is cooking, remove 2 tablespoons drippings and place in an 8-inch skillet. Add green pepper and onion; cook until onion is tender, but not browned. Blend eggs and seasonings; pour into skillet with green pepper and onion. As mixture begins to set at bottom and sides, gently lift cooked portions with a spatula, so that the thin, uncooked part can flow to the bottom. Continue to lift and fold egg mixture gently until it is evenly cooked. Cook until eggs are cooked throughout, but are still moist and glossy. To serve, place a sausage pattie on each top half of bun. Spoon scrambled eggs on remaining halves

Great for a busy young gang is a:

BULL'S-EYE EGG SANDWICH

- 1 slice bread
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 1 Egg
- Salt and pepper

For "sunny-side up" service, remove center of bread slice with a 2¾-inch cookie cutter. Brown bread in moderately hot butter in skillet. Turn bread, break egg into center. Cover and cook egg to desired doneness, 4 to 8 minutes. Season to taste.

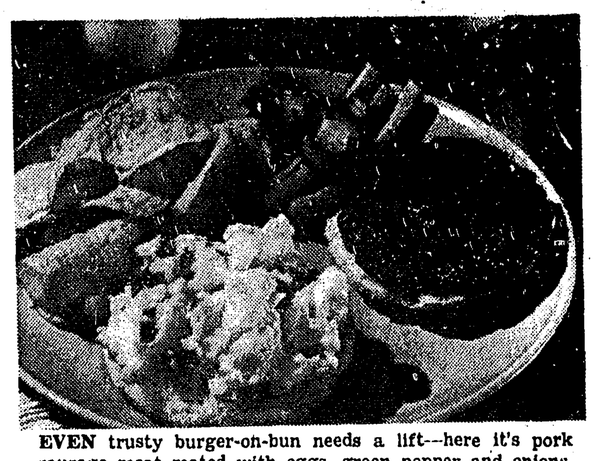

For "over-easy" style, prepare bread as above and place in skillet. Break egg immediately into center. When bread is browned on bottom, turn and cook egg to desired doneness, 4 to 8 minutes. Season to taste.

Finnicky eaters usually respond to novel variations of disliked dishes, it seems. The windup today is a good, attractive, substantial sandwich job, aptly named:

CALICO EGG SANDWICH

- 4 hard-cooked eggs, coarsely chopped
- ¾ cup diced cooked ham
- ½ cup grated Cheddar cheese
- ½ cup finely chopped celery
- ¼ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
- ½ teaspoon dry mustard
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 4 large hard rolls, split and buttered

Combine all ingredients; mix well. Spoon on rolls. Place on cookie sheet and bake in 400°F. oven until cheese starts to melt and edges of rolls are delicately browned, about 15 minutes. Makes 8 servings, fine for a good lunch or supper main course.

EVEN trusty burger-on-bun needs a lift—here it's pork sausage meat mated with eggs, green pepper and onions.

HERE'S HOW WE MAKE EXTRA SURE SAFEWAY BRAND FOODS YOU BUY ARE ALWAYS FRESH

Because our perishable foods (such as meats, eggs, dairy and bakery foods) sell so fast at Safeway that they are off our shelves in a matter of hours, freshness is assured. But we take no chances. The perishable foods Safeway manufactures or processes carry dates which our store people use to make certain that only fresh foods are sold. Here, for example, is how the date looks on a carton of Safeway Brand eggs:

A date like this is printed on the end of each carton. When the numbers "1-15" appeared, our employees knew the carton was not to be sold after January 15. Being positive no cartons remain on our shelves after the printed date ensures that all Safeway eggs you buy will remain fresh and good for many more days with proper home refrigeration.

Publisher Eyes Bright Future Here, Vows Even Better Paper

Corsicana Daily Sun Publisher Tucker Sutherland told members and guests of the Rotary Club Wednesday "I think Corsicana is on the verge of becoming an important regional center", and he vowed to continue to make The Daily Sun the better newspaper that Corsicana deserves.

The publisher, principal speaker at the luncheon meeting, was introduced by program chairman Oliver Albritton, then in turn introduced several members of The Daily Sun staff in describing the operation and aims of newspapers in general and The Daily Sun in particular.

In other business, Leland Cook recognized four Student Rotarians: Rusty Tidwell and Chuck Carpenter of Corsicana High School and Perry Senn and Durwood Keeton of Navarro Junior College. They were presented plaques bearing the "Four Rotary Principles".

Guests were visiting Haskell Rotarian Roy Wiseman and his guest, Robert Boyd of Mildred; Herb Silverberg of Corsicana; Frank Block of Mercantile National Bank of Dallas; Dale Barber of the Zerox Corp.; Randall Barnes, CHS student and guest pianist; and Sun Staffers including Editor Sam Pendergrast, Lloyd Moore of the computer typesetting department, Sales Manager Alvin Holley, and Business Manager Wilson Griffin.

Rotary President Hal Bookout announced that next week's meeting will be at the regular time but will be convened at the "Commons" cafeteria of CHS, in recognition of Public Schools Week. Serving time will be 12:15, and Rotarians will dine with the students.

In a brief main address, Sutherland noted that—with $6 million spent daily for copies of newspapers and another $16 million spent daily for advertising in newspapers—newspapers are the fifth largest area of employment in the United States and tenth in value of goods produced.

"But what is more important than the financial aspects," he said, "is the daily newspaper's status in a position of trust which justifies its being invited into your home every day as a trusted friend."

Noting that a newspaper serves "two publics", the Publisher said he views as his first responsibility the necessity for keeping The Sun on a sound financial basis that will guarantee a daily newspaper and a free voice for Corsicana.

But he also emphasized his view that his most sacred responsibility is to see that the local newspaper fulfills its philosophical function as a community newspaper. That entails, he said, providing an accurate mirror of local activities, together with truthful, competent and intelligent interpretation of the news; serving as a trustworthy conscience of community motives; providing an impartial voice for justice (including the necessity for giving both sides of every question and being tolerant of other viewpoints); serving as an interesting friend for every reader; acting as a kind of "living textbook" on contemporary problems; being an alert watchdog for community welfare; defending the all-important freedom of the press; and serving as a fervent catalyst for community improvement.

"We must praise the good that we see and point out what we think is bad," he said. "Readers must be able to depend on us to be honest, even when it hurts."

In introducing staff members at the Rotary meeting, Sutherland noted that Business Manager Wilson Griffin has more than 25 years with the paper, Advertising Manager Alvin Holley some 15 years, and Press Foreman Truly Ethridge more than 40 years.

In a question and answer period later, he said "We (The Daily Sun) are an independent newspaper, and that's what we'll remain as long as I'm publisher."

In answer to a question about why there are no Saturday editions of The Sun, he said "It goes back to that economic stability. Most Saturday papers lose money."

He briefly related the history of the Harte-Hanks organization which recently merged 26 separate corporations involving 17 Texas newspapers, pointing out that some editorials are run in The Sun that originally appeared in other Harte-Hanks newspapers. "But, starting a week ago," he said, "all lead editorials have been written locally, and we are now citing the sources of editorials printed under the general heading of 'other viewpoints'."

There is no editorial control from out of town, he made clear.

He said editorial ideas come from a variety of places, and editorial commentaries and ideas are welcome from the public, as long as they are based on fact and are clearly written and in good taste.

Sutherland said it is even possible to have varying views on the editorial staff of The Sun, citing a recent instance in which Editor Pendergrast had written an "anti-daylight-saving-time" editorial when he (Sutherland) actually supports the idea of changing the clock to allow more daylight after working hours.

In answer to a question of why The Sun didn't have a story the day before about the Italy bank robbery, Sutherland noted that the incident occurred past the deadline of The Sun—although a Daily Sun reporter was the first to interview the robbery victims.

Women's Golf Tourney Set

The Women's Golf Championship Tournament for the Corsicana Country Club will be played June 19 through 27 with qualifying set June 10-18.

The dates were set Thursday by the sponsoring Ladies Golf Association at its February business luncheon. Several alternate dates were offered by the executive committee. Mrs. Robert Jordan, president, advised the club house and golf course will be closed for vacation and re-doing all greens during much of September leaving October as the only fall date as an option. The June dates were preferred as coming at a time when the course will be in best playing condition.

By a close 8 to 6 vote, the Association revamped the tournament format abandoning the three-day consecutive play in favor of playing three matches over a 10-day period. Mrs. Jordan said it was the executive committee's feeling a 10-day period would encourage greater participation in view of the dwindling number of entries over the past two years when the tournament was run off in a Friday through Sunday period. Opting for 10 days in which to play three matches affords two weekends making it possible for members who work to play matches on Saturdays and Sundays providing this can be arranged conveniently with a match opponent.

Two further recommendations from the executive committee were approved by vote of the membership. The Ringer Improvement tournament will revert back to a three-month event whereas in the year just past, it had been a two-month event. The association also voted to continue the practice of awarding an attendance prize to encourage attendance on dates business luncheon meetings are held. On months when no important business needs to come before the organization, luncheons are omitted on the regular date at the discretion of the president.

In behalf of the Association, Mrs. Jordan presented the "Past President's Medallion" to Mrs. Willie Harmon, the 1970 president.

Mrs. Jordan announced her 1971 committee appointees as follows: Rules—Mrs. Edwin Long, Mrs. Dave Walker and Miss Betty Wright; Telephone—Mrs. Carl Norvell, Mrs. R. W. Smith and Mrs. Bernard Rosen; Parliamentarian—Mrs. William Clarkson; Sunshine Courtesies—Betty Jean Clay.

Mrs. Tom White, 1971 president of Central Texas Women's Golf Association, revealed the Central Texas tournament schedule for the year which opens March 10 at Lakewood Country Club in Dallas.

CTWGA tournaments limit the field to the first 100 entries received followed a designated first day entries may be submitted. Mrs. White explained that if more than 100 entries are received at a CTWGA event in 1971 on the first day reservations may be submitted, there will be a blind drawing to determine which players entries will be accepted and which will be rejected once the maximum of 100 is filled.

She urged Corsicana golfers to submit their entries on the first eligible day for any monthly tournament for best chance of getting in.

The remainder of the CTWGA schedule for 1971 is as follows: April—Riverlake, Dallas; May—Dallas Athletic Club; June—2-day Medal Play, Corsicana; July—Sand Oaks Club, Greenville; August—Nolan River Country Club, Cleburne; September—Waxahachie Country Club; October—Willow Brook, Dallas; November—Brookhaven, Dallas.

Mrs. White announced the Texas Women's State tournament will be held in September at the Texarkana Country Club.

Minutes of the Jan. 28 meeting at which new officers for this year were elected were read and a financial report given by Mrs. Alonzo Turn, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Harmon won the attendance prize. Sixteen were present.

Six Industries Eye Prospects Of Locating Here

A progress report on work with six industries that have expressed an interest in locating in Corsicana was goven to the industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce Friday morning by Embry Ferguson, chairman.

A decision on Corsicana is expected soon from at least two of the prospects. The industrial committee has been working with some of these companies for as long as two years, according to Ferguson.

Ferguson and Wiley Pennell of Lone Star Gas distributed sheets now being prepared by Texas Power and Light, and Lone Star, that will give specific information on available industrial sites in this area.

Ferguson says he will soon appoint a committee to study a possible training session for the Corsicana industrial recruiting team.

These went to Lone Star Gas Co., Oil City Iron Works, Corsicana Production Credit Association, Stroud-Stell Wholesale Grocery, Texas Power and Light Co., K. Wolens, Inc., and Wolf Brand Products Co.

Stephenson, co-chairman with Herb Silverberg for the 1970 fund campaign, told the coffee assembly "Herb and I did things differently and didn't spend too much money. In the past we have given awards to almost everybody who had a key role. We felt we could better spend the money for the United Fund so instead of giving a lot of awards, we are going to give recognition here for the outstanding job a lot of people did."

Under this category, for the first time, the United Fund formally recognized the four firms with the highest per capita giving to the United Fund campaign last year. Stephenson revealed that each of the top four being recognized had an average giving of $20 and up per employe.

Singled out for this high recognition were Tom's Foods, Ltd., 11 employes, who led the list of givers; First National Bank, 62 employes; Corsicana National Bank with 13 employes, and Chattanooga Glass Co. with 104 employes.

Manager Don Marett and Mrs. Johnnye Welch received the plaudits for Tom's; President W. D. Wyatt and Mrs. Floy Smith for First National; John Lahman for Chattanooga Glass, and President Zane Stites for Corsicana National Bank.

Hal Bookout, president of the UF in 1970, presented emblematic desk awards to Stephenson and Silverberg for their outstanding leadership as general campaign co-chairmen, and Stephenson as this year's president presented to Bookout a wall plaque for his year of outstanding service and leadership as the president last year.

Campaign leaders of the past year, although many were not among those at the coffee, were singled out for praise by the campaign co-chairmen. Applauded for their contributions of leadership were June Clark, Gold Card division chairman; Raymond Hampel, Chapter Plan division chairman; Ron Ernest, General Employes division chairman; Joe Seale, Public-Civic Employes division chairman; Jim Acker, Management division chairman; Bill Hargrove, County West, and Joe Evans, County East.

Appreciation also was expressed to the budget committee which had the responsibility of conducting the agency allocation hearings and determining what appropriations they would receive from the UF. This group included Mitchell Boyd and Mrs. Nelson Ross, co-chairmen, and members Lee Brookshire, Mrs. J. K. Bradley, David Brown, Mrs. Leo Price, Bob W. Scott, Joe Seale, Norman Shaw, John B. Stroud and Lin Warthan. Stroud was recognized additionally for his services as treasurer in 1970 who audited the campaign throughout its duration.

Before the thanks had been completed, Stephenson paid tribute to the outgoing directors including Bookout, Mrs. W. E. Carroll, Blooming Grove; Don Crockett, Dawson; Tom Eady, Euin Frank, Ned Polk, Mrs. Nelson Ross, Joe Seale, Mrs. F. C. Stewart, Rev. Eugene Wood, and Mrs. R. F. Henderson, Frost.

"We want to thank radio KAND and the Corsicana Daily Sun for the coverage they gave, and Henry Higgins, post office employe, who kept our thermometer board painted showing the campaign's progress," said Stephenson.

Last, but not least, President Stephenson expressed the county's appreciation to its executive secretary, Mrs. Essie McElwrath, who just completed her first year in that capacity. "She did an outstanding job," proclaimed the president.

Stephenson urged those who will be working in the campaign this year and in the future to continue to stress the importance of employe-payroll deduction giving through the Chapter Plan division and in seeking the larger individual and company gifts through the Gold Card divisions.

"We see the day in two more good years like we had in 1970 in the Chapter Plan and Gold Card division giving when we won't even have to have a campaign. The prospects of our not having to have a campaign (as we know it now) in two years is excellent," said Stephenson.

While making no apologies for not giving out the customary string of tangible awards as had been done in prior years, he asserted "It's the thought behind the gift and the recognition publicly for having done an outstanding job that is important."

UF Silver Plaque Awards

The United Fund presented silver hued plaques to seven firms Wednesday for 10-year record of 100 per cent employe-giving. Four firms had representatives on hand at the awards coffee to receive them, left to right: Lin Warthan, Corsicana Production Credit Association; Wiley Pennell, Lone Star Gas Co.; Herb Johnson, Wolf Brand Products Co., and William Clarkson, Oil City Iron Works. Also receiving plaques will be Stroud-Stell Wholesale Grocery, Texas Power and Light Co. and K. Wolens, Inc. (Photo by Tucker Sutherland)

Nixon

he called a new, more restrained world role for the United States.

But the major concern of the message throughout was with what he called the "most anguishing problem" of Vietnam.

"Hanoi has made the war an Indochina conflict," Nixon stated, with some 240,000 North Vietnamese troops in South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos, including a few Viet Cong in Cambodia.

"Enemy intentions and capabilities in Indochina will pose some hard choices about the deployment of allied troops as we pursue our withdrawals," he continued, and North Vietnamese actions (in Laos and Cambodia) could require high levels of American assistance and air operations in order to further Vietnamization and our withdrawals.

The theme of frustration in peacemaking and danger in world conditions pervaded other sections of the massive report.

Noting the Soviet Union's power position in the Middle East, the President said any great nation effort to dominate the area would "increase the danger to world peace."

In the nuclear arms race, he told Congress and the nation that what he termed greatly increased Soviet power could tempt Moscow into bolder and more dangerous probing of the West.

He also said the United States would like to begin improving relations with mainland China, but that nation continues "to cast us in the devil's role."

Nixon told the American people that he was trying to shape a new, less burdensome policy line for the United States in world affairs. He appealed for understanding and perhaps argued against any new swing into American isolationism.

"We have learned in recent years the dangers of our overinvolvement," the President told his broadcast audience. "The other danger—a grave risk we are equally determined to avoid—is underinvolvement.

"After a long and unpopular war, there is temptation to turn inward—to withdraw from the world, to back away from our commitments. That deceptively smooth road of the new isolationism is surely the road to war."

To point up his approach to world affairs Nixon also covered these areas in his message:

Mideast

Nixon gave Moscow a barely concealed warning not to try to dominate the Middle East which he called militarily and economically vital to the Western alliance.

The United States recognizes "the Soviet Union has important interests" in the region, Nixon said. But he added the U.S. does not seek a dominant position and "we cannot allow others to establish one."

Soviet-U.S. Relations

The growth of Soviet nuclear power to parity with the United States "could tempt Soviet leaders into bolder challenges," Nixon said. Errors of judgment by Moscow may have contributed to the Middle East crisis last summer and to Soviet naval actions in the Caribbean last fall.

Apparently Nixon meant that in its support for Egypt in moving antiaircraft missiles close to the Suez Canal, and in the Caribbean cruises of nuclear submarines, the Soviet leadership was probing U.S. intentions and firmness.
